

My fairy senses told me your tooth will soon fall out, and in its place a grown-up tooth will shortly up and sprout.

So when that tooth comes out at last you can put it right in here.
Then place it under your pillow or a nightstand that is near

I'll then be back to collect your tooth sometime when you're asleep, and in its place I'll leave a surprise for you to forever keep.
