

Hip Hip Hooray!
It's Independence Day!
Here's a special hunt
for you to do.
Where you'll solve and follow
each and every clue.
If you're up for this Independence Day fun.
The table is where
you'll find clue number one.

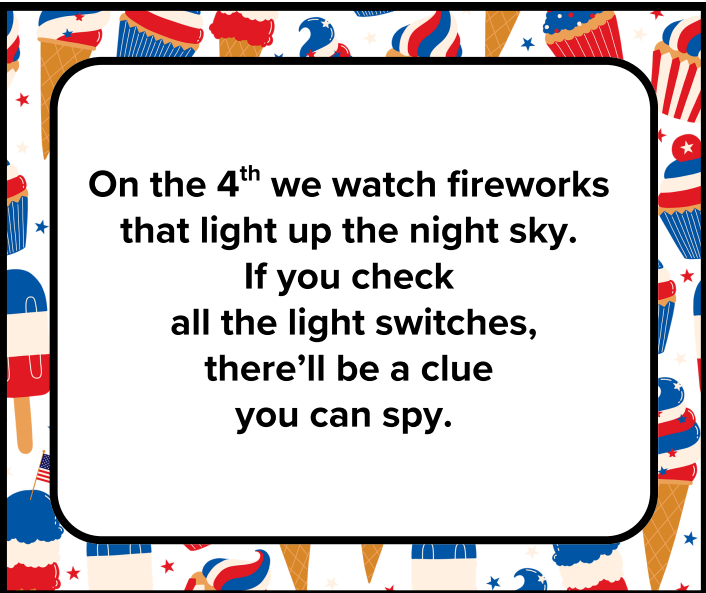

Bomb pops are tasty
and a 4th of July treat.
Another clue awaits you
by these frozen things you eat.

After yummy popsicles
and ice cream too,
there's something important
you must remember to do.
Where bristles sit
both night and day,
your next clue is hiding
there tucked away.

1776 was the year
our country was founded.
Tick tock, tick tock
is how the next clue sounded.

On the 4th we watch fireworks
that light up the night sky.
If you check
all the light switches,
there'll be a clue
you can spy.

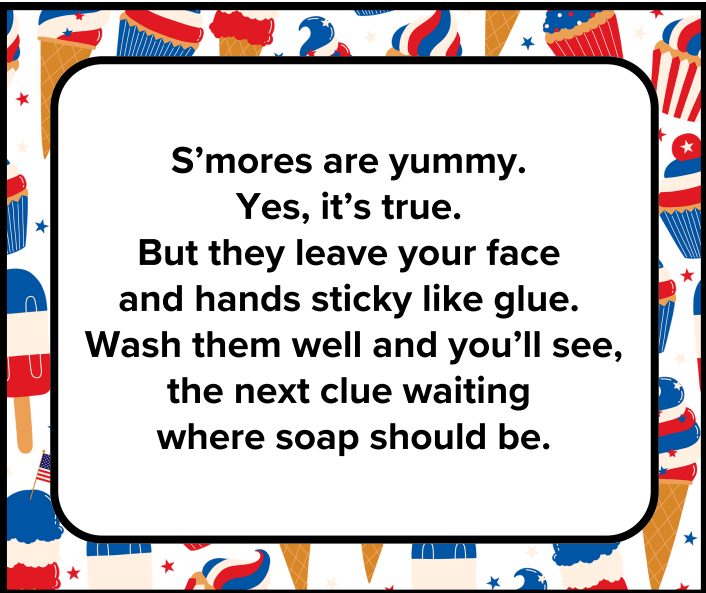

Before we had states,
there were colonies instead.
Your next clue is hidden
where you'd wash
your hair and head.

The flag's stars and stripes
wave all day long,
while we play and sing
our country's song.
When the 4th of July fun
has come to an end,
look where we send off
and say bye to our friend

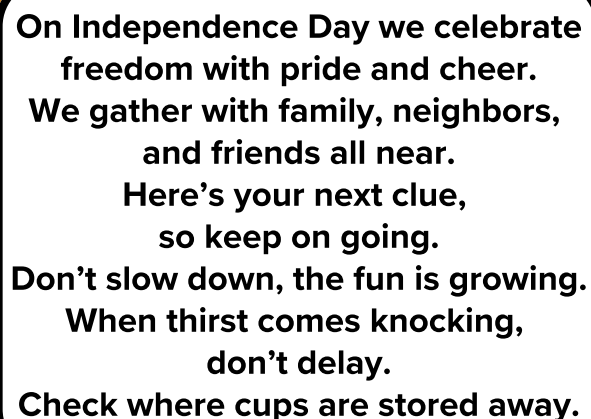

I hope you're wearing
something red, white or blue.
Another clue can be found
where the coffee does brew.

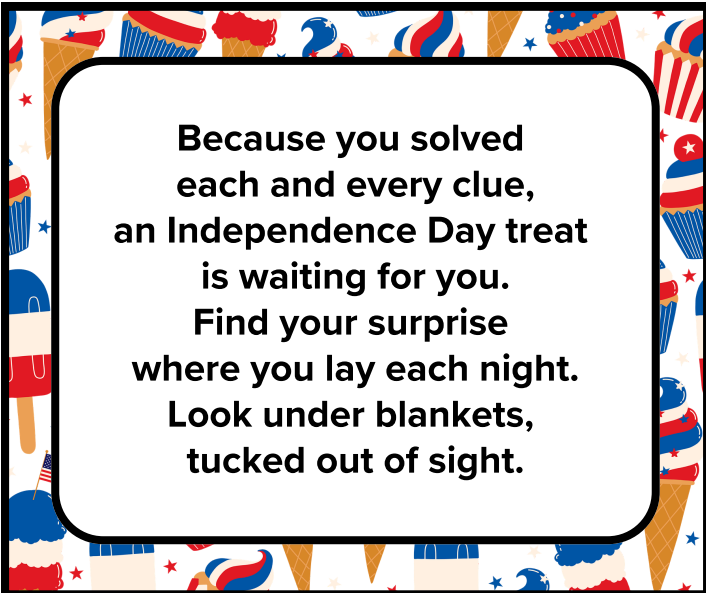

S'mores are yummy.
Yes, it's true.
But they leave your face
and hands sticky like glue.
Wash them well and you'll see,
the next clue waiting
where soap should be.

A fun July 4th tradition
that is full of festive spirit,
is an Independence Day parade
you'll be glad when you're near it.
Before you head out
to watch this show,
look where shoes
and sneakers go.

On Independence Day we celebrate freedom with pride and cheer.
We gather with family, neighbors,
and friends all near.
Here's your next clue,
so keep on going.
Don't slow down, the fun is growing.
When thirst comes knocking,
don't delay.
Check where cups are stored away.

Because you solved
each and every clue,
an Independence Day treat
is waiting for you.
Find your surprise
where you lay each night.
Look under blankets,
tucked out of sight.
